

On December 2, 2021, the United Arab Emirates will celebrate half a century of statehood, under the vision of the Founding Fathers.

This momentous milestone for the nation and its people is worthy of a major commemoration, which has been captured through a unique symbol of protection and pride – the crafting of an ornate pistol in the UAE.

In the design of the commemorative pistol, CARACAL was inspired by iconic weapons of the past such as the John Moses Browning 1911. CARACAL's pistol is based on exquisite craftsmanship utilising the best technical and material solutions, as one would expect for a pistol of its symbolism.

The new UAE 50th Anniversary CARACAL 2011 Pistol is manufactured in 50 exemplars, bearing serial numbers between 01 and 50; a prized honour that can be passed down from generation to generation.

THE ENGRAVINGS AND GOLD INLAY

The most notable exercise executed for the manufacture of the UAE 50th Anniversary CARACAL 2011 Pistol is certainly the engraving and 24 Carat gold inlay detail.

The design of the symbols stems directly from the official UAE 50th Anniversary logos, featuring the words 50 years together with a falcon's head and the polychromic seven Emirates logo. An outline of the map of the UAE is also featured, as are the colours of the national flag and the count of seven Emirates.

The engravings and 24 Carat gold inlay was commissioned to a leading engraving atelier in Italy, which painstakingly set about elaborating the placement and proportions of the official logos during the spring and summer 2021.

The process of engraving and gold inlay takes several days of extremely skilled work for each pistol, in the hands of an elite group of craftsmen left in Europe keeping this artform alive. The intricate details include metal hardening, engraving, 24 Carat gold inlaying, honing, blueing and enameling, leaving no margin for error.

The final touch on the UAE 50th Anniversary CARACAL 2011 Pistol is accentuated by the luxury carry case, custom built by a leading Italian fine rifle cabinet and case manufacturer. It is enclosed in selected Cape Buffalo leather, while the interior of the case is upholstered with finest suede leather.

The case can be personalised on the brass plaque on the cover, and is available in black or dark tan. It may also be used to accommodate a set of 50th Anniversary Ammunition, in 9x19 Luger calibre.

MATERIAL SPECIFICATIONS

The UAE 50th Anniversary CARACAL 2011 Pistol has been designed and built without compromise: all the parts are made strictly from solid billets of metal, without using any casting or simplified manufacturing, as per large serial products on the world markets.

The slide and upper frame are machined from solid billets of high tensile steel 39NiCrMo4, while the under frame grip is machined from a single billet of Aerospace Alloy AL7075 "Ergal".

The barrel, chambered for the calibre 9x19 Luger, is also made from a solid bar of 36NiCrMo3 steel and fully coated with Titanium Nitride, the same wear-impervious material used to coat milling plaques.

All steel components have been vacuum heat treated, to respect best tolerances and dimensional properties, while the light alloy parts are hard anodised for long-lasting use and conservation over decades.
